

moda

BAKESHOP

Original Recipe

Baby Blanket By Vanessa Christenson

the soft colors of the aviary line is a perfect line for a timeless baby girl quilt.

Ingredients:

1 aviary honey bun

1 yard of cream cut into 5 strips of 5 1/2 inch strips (you'll have a little left over) a little less than 1/2 yard of fabric for binding

2 yards of back fabric

Original Recipe can be found at www.modabakeshop.com

Instructions:

first you'll want to separate your colors. you'll want 8 strips for each block (i used 2 colors of each color for each block)

once you have your 8 strips you are going to sew your strips together 2 at a time press the seams.

once you have two of them together sew 4 together and so forth.

you will end up with all 8 strips sewn together.

cut off the excess so you have a nice clean line next you are going to cut your strips to 8 1/2 inches in length (which should be your width as well) once you have all your blocks cut out, you want to place your striped blocks horizontal and perpendicular

Original Recipe can be found at www.modabakeshop.com

i wanted a square quilt so i laid out 5 squares by 5 squares.
sew your blocks together.

remember the cream fabric that were cut into 5 (5 1/2 in) strips? well take two of them and trim them to 40 1/2 inches sew them to left and right side of your blocks.

Original Recipe can be found at www.modabakeshop.com

then you will sew the three strips together end to end (5 1/2 end to 5 1/2 end to make one long strip) cut two strips of 50 1/2 inches from this one long strip.

sew the two strips to the top and bottom of the quilt.

cut your back fabric to fit the finished front. you are now ready to quilt your quilt.

my quilt was quilted by the talented Felicia of The Quilting Bee.

She knows that my machine quilting looks like scrambled eggs gone bad...

thanks Felicia for saving my butt on this one and making the quilt that much cuter with your skills!

once all that is done you are ready to bind your quilt.

I have step by step instructions on my blog.

<http://adayinthelifeofthechristensons.blogspot.com/2008/08/tutorial-binding-your-quilt.html>

Yield:

one super cute quilt. And when washed, shrunk and crinkled up mine came out to measure approx 47" x 47" instructions and pictures by Vanessa of V and Co.

<http://www.adayinthelifeofthechristensons.blogspot.com/>

Original Recipe can be found at www.modabakeshop.com