BAKESHOP

Original Recipe

Binding and Hair Clips by Angela Yosten

Ingredients:

Charm Pack - featured is Spring Magic by April Cornell
{a honey bun could also be used for the binding clips}
Binding & Hem Clips - featured are Collins No. C136
3/4" Cover Buttons - featured are Dritz #13-30
Craft glue or Hot glue

Garnishes (optional):

Yo-Yo maker
Ribbon
Mary Ellen's Best Press in a Spray bottle
{water would work too}

Original Recipe can be found at www.modabakeshop.com

Instructions:

Select four charm squares

Cut the charm squares into 1 1/2" squares. Honey bun strips could also be used since they are precut into 1 1/2" strips. Just cut down to 1 1/2" squares.

Spray once on the fabric square to dampen it with Mary Ellen's Best Press. This helps the fabric stay around the cover button when working with it.

Wrap the fabric around the cover button until all the ends are on the inside of the button.

Then press the back of the button firmly into place until it snaps down.

Bend the button hole down so that it will not be in the way when applying to the clip.

Add a glob of hot glue or craft glue.

With the clip opened, carefully glue the end of the clip to the back of the covered button.

Let dry before closing clip.

Now follow these steps for the rest of your clips.

You can get 9 clips out of one charm square.

For an extra added touch... add a yo-yo to the underside of the button before attaching to the clip.

Following instructions for the Yo-yo maker, make a yo-yo from a charm square.

Hand sew on a covered button... you do not want to bend the button hole if you are making them this way.

With a thin piece of ribbon, fold it over a couple times creating a leaf.

Stitch on the leaf to the back of the yoyo and then glue the clip to the ribbon while the clip is opened.

You now have one adorable little Hair clip.

A few variations of hair clips that you can make using the binding & hem clips.

Yield:

Lots of adorable binding and hair clips to coordinate with everything.
