BAKESHOP

Original Recipe

Fabric Frame Tutorial by Rachel Griffith

Ingredients:

1 patisserie honey bun.
wooden 4x6 picture frame. {not plastic or metal.}
elmer's glue-all multi purpose glue. {mod podge works just as well.}
foam craft brush.

Garnishes (optional):

decorative ribbons, selvages &/or buttons.

Instructions:

pick out 4 of your fav prints from your honey bun.
{this is a teacher's gift, so i chose the 2 map-ish ones along with 2 that coordinated.}

cut your 4 honey bun strips in half.
{i cut mine right on the fold.}

now it's time to prep your frame.
I cleaned mine with some lysol all purpose cleaner.
make sure you let it dry really well.

pour your glue {or mod podge} in a bowl.
trust me it's much easier this way.
{and a wet wash cloth is very handy to have near by.}

start by brushing on some glue.
it's okay to be liberal because you want the fabric to stick.
just don't goop it like crazy and you'll be fine.
promise.

place the end of your strip on the back side of the frame.

you'll need to hold the end while you start to wrap the strip around.

and just keep wrapping.
make sure that you are wrapping the fabric tight up against the wood.
if you don't the glass and frame backing won't fit properly.

and don't be intimidated by the corners.
just add some extra glue on the folds.

When you come to the end of your strip just overlap to the next one. And make sure that the end of the 1st strip ends up on the back side. {you might have to trim it like I did.}

at this point you might be thinking, "why am I doing this to my fabric???"

please trust me that once it's dry you'll ♥ it.

just continue wrapping until your whole frame is done.
take your wet wash cloth and rub it gently over the whole thing. this is to make sure there isn't a big dot of glue somewhere.

this is important:

before your glue/fabric dries, you need to fit the glass into the frame.

this will ensure that your glass & the frame backing will fit back in correctly.

set the frame aside for it to dry completely.

mine only took about 20 minutes because i set it out in the sun.

while your frame dries, go ahead and get your pic ready.

in this case i made up a little quote pic for jackson's teacher.

and after your pic is ready if you're still waiting for the frame to dry... you can whip up one of these...

you can transform aluminum cans into cute holders by doing the same thing!!!

it's SUPER quick to do. and easy peasy.

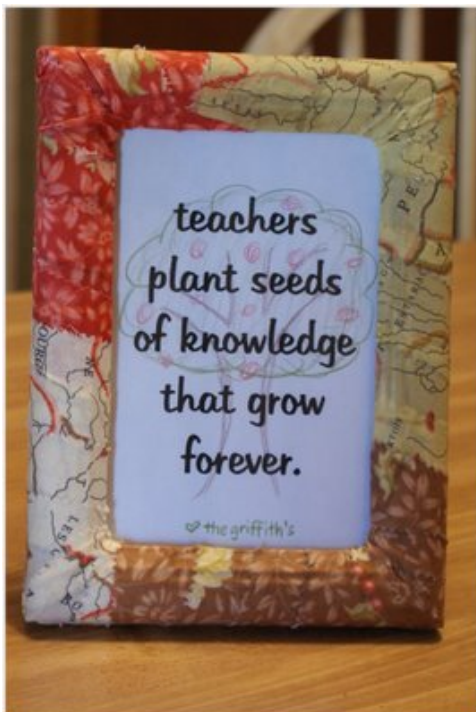

and don't stop at those honey bun strips!!!
{i knew i was keeping all those moda decorative ribbons for a reason.}

Yield:

and now...the moment you've been waiting for...
once your frame is completely dry, assemble it all together...

and voila...you have just made your very own fabric frame!!! pure cuteness huh???

these little quote frames & pencil holders make the perfect gifts for teachers.
{and quilty pals.}

but don't forget to make some for your family pics!!!
cute, cute, cute!!!
