BAKESHOP

Original Recipe

Pure Comfort by Cara Wilson

Hi everyone! It's Cara from CaraQuilts {<http://www.caraquilts.com>} and I've got a project for all of you who are always chilled, or live with someone like my husband who is always hot, and therefore makes the house cold!!

This is a quilted wrap/shawl, and all it takes is one jelly roll! Very little waste in this one. And it's easy! And fast! What else could you ask for?? I have to tell you I've pretty much lived in this wrap since I finished it.

Like any pattern, please read through it completely before starting. If you have any questions at all, just e-mail/message me over at my blog and I'd be happy to help! Oh, and make sure to let us know if you like the pattern! :)

Ingredients:

- 1 Pure Jelly Roll
- 1 3/4 yards Snuggles Chocolate, backing
- 1/2 yard binding

Original Recipe can be found at www.modabakeshop.com

Garnishes (optional):

3.5 yards Pure twill tape (see option)

Instructions:

Center Section

Separate 29 strips for the center section of the wrap. Cut these down to 25 1/2". Take the cutoffs and trim them down to 16 1/2" and set aside for use in the side sections.

Sew the center section strips together, alternating direction to help prevent stretching. Press well, all in one direction. Clean up the sides so they are even. Measure the length of the wrap; this is how long your sides have to be. It should measure 58 1/2".

Sides

Take the remaining full length strips and cut them down to 24 1/2". Attach one cutoff piece to either end of the 24 1/2" strips. Arrange the strips in whatever order you like best and stitch together into (2) 6 strip pieces.

Alternate the strips coloring, both in the middle and end strips.

Note: If making for either a plus size (because I love you all I'll admit to being a 14, which will give you a perspective) or someone tall (over 5'10", again because I love you, I'm 5'8") you may want to make the wrap wider. To do this, cut two extra 2 1/2" strips from the binding fabric. Trim down to 24 1/2". Add 16 1/2" cutoff strips to either end. Attach to the side sections. This makes the wrap 4 1/2" wider, about 53 1/2". If you need to go any wider you will have to adjust the backing measurements, so you have room for it to shrink up as you quilt.

Cut 8 of the remaining cut offs to 14 1/2". Stitch 4 strips end-to-end so that you have (2) four strip sections measuring 56 1/2". Press in half, wrong sides together. Press in half again. Pin on the edge of the center section, layering the side sections on top. Stitch through all layers. Press away from the center.

Option: Instead of the folded strips, you could sew the side sections to the center, and press, and then use the twill tape that is available for the line, and place it over the seam, pinning well, and stitch on either side.

Baste and quilt. I would suggest not quilting very heavily as you want it to drape and wrap around you well. Too much thread will make it stiff, and you'll lose some of the snuggly softness of the, well, Snuggles!

DO NOT BIND...yet anyways ;)

Now let's make this a wrap and not a quilt.

Measure the entire piece and find the center, if you don't have anything this long, just fold in half and press lightly. Mark this with chalk pencil or whatever non-permanent method you prefer.

From that point go up to the 16th strips from the bottom. Mark.

Go back to the bottom mark and measure out 2" on each side and mark.

Draw a line from the mark you just made to the 15th strip mark. Do this on both sides. Sew on the line all the way up, and repeat on the other side.

Cut out the center "triangle" a scant  $\frac{1}{4}$ " from the sewing line.

For the binding, you will need about 290", including the 10"+ extra for corners etc. I use 2" strips for binding so if you use wider you will have to recalculate the yardage. Cut 7 strips.

Now you get to bind! Wrap up and enjoy some Pure comfort!

Be sure to take a picture and upload it to Bake Shop's Flickr page so we can all see! {<http://www.flickr.com/groups/modabakeshop>}

Yield:

One adult size wrap/shawl! Get Cozy!
