3 Sisters

Though 3 Sisters are not siblings in the typical sense of the word, they are indeed connected by an intense love of fabric and the creative expression that textiles make possible.

Each sister comes from a family with a deep respect for fabric, yet each has a unique background: one learned to sew garments as child in 4-H, one has stitched quilts for more than 30 years, and the third doesn't sew at all, but is a master of using textiles to create a warm and inviting environment.

These different beginnings and approaches are reflected in the design process, where their various sources of inspiration both play off and complement one another, enriching their work. Their breadth of experience, and the give-and-take of sisterly relationships, is evident in the harmony of their final designs. ~
